

LIVE Turnbull backs Dutton on 'illiterate' refugee remarks

The Prime Minister gets behind Peter Dutton, saying he is an "excellent" Immigration Minister and that he is right to say that many of the refugees who could head to Australia are illiterate.

■ How accurate are Dutton's comments on 'illiterate' refugees?

Volkers set to be barred from Brazilian Olympic team at Australia's request

Australian swim coach Scott Volkens is expected to be barred from taking a role with the Brazilian swim team at the Rio Olympics.

Bodyguard found at scene of suspicious death leaves Iraq for Australia

The Australian bodyguard at the centre of the suspicious death of a colleague at the Australian embassy in Baghdad is allowed to fly out of Iraq bound for Australia, despite allegations he has a history of violent and threatening behaviour.

Rogerson and McNamara gave 'unbelievable' versions of Gao murder, court hears

Two former police officers charged with the murder of Sydney student Jamie Gao have given "far-fetched and unbelievable" versions of what happened, prosecutors say.

Man told to stay in wheelchair overnight 'failed' by support service

A man with a disability who pays $100,000 a year for the care he needs has been told to stay in his wheelchair overnight by a support service unable to help him into bed.

Tourist killed in croc attack on boat had 'heart of gold'

Noel "Trapper" Ramage, who drowned after the small boat he was in overturned after an encounter with a crocodile, had only this month been given the all-clear after a battle with cancer.

Ford faces class action over potentially dangerous transmission

A law firm launches a class action on behalf of about 60,000 Australian Ford owners, claiming vehicles containing an automatic "Powershift" transmission are potentially dangerous.

---

Outpouring of support as suspicious fire destroys Geelong's only mosque

Geelong's Muslim community is "overwhelmed" by the outpouring of support it has received after the city's only mosque was torched in a suspicious fire, believed to be connected to a string of arson attacks on churches.

---

Clinton and Sanders split contests in Oregon and Kentucky

Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders each pick up primary wins in yet another demonstration of how divided the party is in the drawn-out race to win the nomination for November's general election.

---

Melbourne Uber driver beats fine in landmark case

A Melbourne Uber driver wins an appeal against a $900 fine for operating without accreditation, effectively legalising the service in Victoria.

---

Questions raised over Feeney's negative gearing of $2.3m home

It is "hypocritical" for Labor frontbencher David Feeney to negatively gear a house when his party's policy is to abolish the practice, Finance Minister Mathias Cormann says.

---

16yo calls on Barnaby Joyce to save her family's dairy farm

The plight of milk farmers facing a drastic cut in payments sparks a wave of social media support and petitions, with one of the most popular started by a 16-year-old girl worried about her family's future.

- Barnaby Joyce urges supermarkets to return more money to dairy farmers
-

Pink diamond sells for $42.8 million, setting new world record

The "Unique Pink", weighing 15.38 carats and mounted on a ring, sells to an Asian private collector bidding by telephone.

- Billionaire's $68m diamond for 7yo daughter

FEATURES

The day dementia took the dairy farm: one couple's story

How accurate are Dutton's comments on 'illiterate' refugees?

How many friends do you need to maintain your social network?

The female factor: Meet the young women voting for Donald Trump

Cheap imports spell doom for 135-year-old shoemakers

Does being stalked make you more likely to become a stalker?

Add us on WhatsApp for news on your phone

Inside Daraya: A Syrian town on the verge of starvation

Meet Aggie, the singing and dancing robot tour guide

Quiz: How much do you know about supplements?

---

ANALYSIS & OPINION

We're all class

Contrary to what the Treasurer says, class is definitely not dead in Australian politics. Which is why policy differences on things like tax cuts and penalty rates will continue to gain so much traction this election.

By Peter Lewis

Greens campaign

Having made themselves so unpopular, Malcolm Turnbull and Bill Shorten will have only themselves to blame if the Greens emerge from this election more powerful than ever.

By Terry Barnes

Climate policy silence

We're way past the point of pretending the world isn't warming, so the question really should be why the major parties are so silent on their climate policies during an election campaign.

By Greg Jericho

Being 'Aussie'

In an immigrant nation like Australia, our Australianness isn't and shouldn't be determined by any one aspect of our identity, least of all where we or our parents "really" came from.

By Sunil Badami

---

STATE & TERRITORY NEWS

ACT NSW NT QLD SA TAS VIC WA

- Curious Campaign: What are our leaders really thinking about climate change?
- Canberra garbage truck drivers to stage second strike over pay
- Light-rail protesters disrupt contract signing announcement
- Canberra police show support for LGBTI community
- Men involved in bikies turf war could serve sentences outside jail

More ACT news

LOCAL NEWS

Canberra ▼

- ANU encourages more schools to offer psychology studies
- Archaeology students dig deeper for local Indigenous heritage
- Parliament House architect dies at 95
- Blowtorch-wielding robber holds up Canberra petrol station
- Election clash with school holidays may cause sausage sizzle fizzle

More Canberra news

WORLD

Guam Archbishop accused of abuse

The head of the Catholic Church in Guam is forced to publicly defend himself from accusations of sexual abuse.

'Constitution or Maduro?'

Venezuela's parliament successfully votes to defy a state of emergency that the President decreed over a nation sapped by a collapsing economy.

Female Iron Man villain canned

Iron Man 3 originally featured a female villain, but she was rewritten to be male to maximise toy sales, the movie's screenwriter has revealed.

ASIA PACIFIC

Trump to dump climate

Donald Trump says he would renegotiate America's role in the global climate accord and is willing to talk to Kim Jong-un.

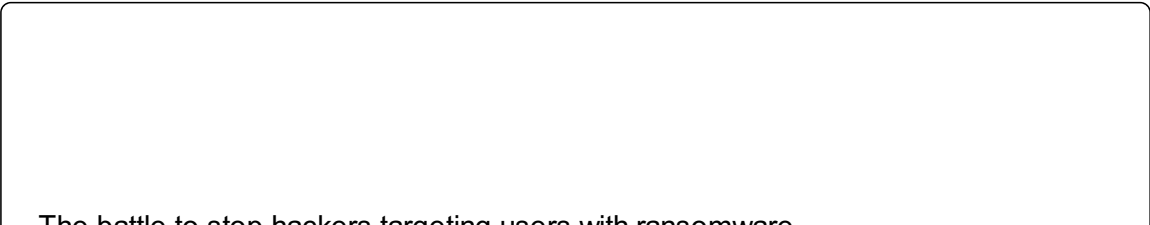

Finding Nemo fish fears

The sequel to Finding Nemo leads Australian researchers to warn of the dangers associated with buying your own Nemo or Dory.

Bangladesh arrests

Bangladesh police arrest an Islamist militant charged with the murder of a professor amid a surge in deadly attacks.

BUSINESS

The battle to stop hackers targeting users with ransomware

The battle to stop hackers targeting users with ransomware

Salvio's Dancing Shoes closes its doors in Sydney after 135 years of making shoes

Low wage growth

Wage growth hits a fresh record low, with workers' pay rising just 0.4 per cent last quarter and 2.1 per cent over the past year.

Rate cut 'opportunity'

RBA board member John Edwards says ultra-low inflation means real interest rates are rising, hinting that more rate cuts may be needed.

Most super still tax free

A partner with one of Australia's leading accounting firms says most super accounts do not pay any tax, and the budget changes are unlikely to alter that situation.

Ford facing class action

A law firm launches a class action on behalf of about 60,000 Australian Ford owners.

---

SPORT

Roughead's melanoma recurrence 'extremely serious': Lewis

Hawthorn midfielder Jordan Lewis says Jarryd Roughead's recurrence of a melanoma has hit the Hawks forward hard, saying the diagnosis is "extremely serious".

Bailey's helmet hit clean off by Coulter-Nile's lightning fast IPL bouncer

Australian cricketer George Bailey says a blow to his helmet from a Nathan Coulter-Nile delivery was "like getting hit in the face by a truck".

Volkers set to be barred from Brazilian Olympic team at Australia's request

Sally Pearson to return to racing in Birmingham in June

Simmons tipped to head to 76ers after NBA Draft Lottery

The four players Daley is pondering over for Blues Origin I selection

---

HEALTH

'I just want to take care of him'

Joyce Crichton knew there was no way they could stay on the farm, when her husband couldn't find his way home.

Why women choose to have labiaplasty

Many women who have labiaplasties do so after derogatory comments from past sexual partners, interviews suggest.

Potato linked to hypertension

The potato receives a bad rap in a medical report, however Australian experts say it is important to look at diet holistically.

Quiz: How much do you know about supplements?

---

RURAL

Broken Hill Flying Doctors helping isolated Australians for 80 years

Dairy aid

A Victorian mayor is also warning of major job losses in north west Victoria

Farmers reactions mixed

The delay of the backpacker tax has added to uncertainty in the horticulture industry, growers say.

Help in isolation

Getting access to health services when you live more than 1,000 kilometres from the state capital is no easy feat.

---

MOST POPULAR

Past Hour

How accurate are Dutton's comments on 'illiterate' refugees?
Live: Turnbull backs Dutton on 'illiterate' refugee remarks
Man told to stay in wheelchair overnight 'failed' by support service
Ford faces class action over potentially dangerous transmission
Melbourne Uber driver beats fine in landmark case
SPORT Volkens set to be barred from Brazilian Olympic team at Australia's request
Journalist Samantha Maiden disqualified from driving
ABC Fact Check unit to close due to budget cuts
Rogerson and McNamara gave 'unbelievable' versions of Gao murder, court hears
The female factor: Meet the young women voting for Donald Trump

Past 24 Hours

The female factor: Meet the young women voting for Donald Trump
Live: Turnbull backs Dutton on 'illiterate' refugee remarks
Man fights off crocodiles as friend drowns in three-hour ordeal
Outpouring of support as suspicious fire destroys Geelong's only mosque
Why do women choose to have labiaplasty?
How's the NBN rollout going in your electorate? Search the full data
Cheap imports spell doom for 135-year-old shoemakers
UNSW engineers set solar energy world record
Questions raised over Feeney's negative gearing of $2.3m home
Guard held over embassy death 'investigated over violent threats'

Past Week

World's largest plane touches down in Perth
ANALYSIS Why is Australia ruining Eurovision?
Weather presenter told to cover up on air after viewers criticise 'cocktail dress'
Dami Im claims Eurovision second place with Sound of Silence
Dami Im through to Eurovision grand final
Fan offers HBO $10 for each Game of Thrones download
'Buyer beware': Hidden dangers of vitamins and supplements
Baby bison killed after tourists put it in back of car
Duncan Storrar 'overwhelmed' after GoFundMe campaign hits $60k
As it happened: Dami Im narrowly misses out on Eurovision crown

Past Month

Budget 2016: Winners and losers
Pop icon Prince dead at 57
Uncle charged with murder of student found in blowhole
Crowdfunding raises tens of thousands to buy Aussie battler a toaster
World's largest plane touches down in Perth
Turnbull cancels campaign event as leadership tensions resurface
Wave of dead sea creatures hits Chile's beaches
France to build Australia's next submarine fleet
ANALYSIS Why is Australia ruining Eurovision?
'It's great to be going home': 60 Minutes crew, mother released

---